Dear All

As a member of the International College of Dentistry Section VI, I am happy to be associated with the prestigious honor society, which has seen more than 100 years of successful existence. I am more elated to be trusted with a huge responsibility, especially after the release of the much welcomed first issue of the newsletter. I thank the office bearers for their continued trust and faith in me.

The leadership has evolved and been re-energized. All backlogs accumulated due to COVID-19 pandemic have been cleared. The member activities done during the period are being highlighted through this edition of the newsletter.

We are seeing a physical convocation after nearly a 2-year delay. In this time, we have been kept closely connected. The world, more than ever, needs instant communication as well as the need to be connected in real-time. Over the years, the methods of communication have changed, especially in the COVID-19.

In the era of social networks, the news/events of a chapter/zone get noticed only for a day or so after which it disappears from the sight and thought of many. The good deeds done under the banner of ICD should not be buried – but should be documented such that it is in memory of the members. This newsletter perhaps would turn into a tool to document the efforts of our members. Our section members are doing a wonderful job – especially in the era of the COVID-19 pandemic. I am happy that I am a tool in documenting the various contributions done by members/zonal reagents under the aegis of ICD.

I am sure that in the days to come the members would find this as a one-stop center for looking into our section’s activities in the immediate and the distant past. We have a huge number of dentists in India and have nearly a third of the world’s dental colleges. Also, we are one of the most populous countries in the world. The needs of this population are more and there are several gaps that need to be addressed. A society like ICD can do wonders and serve the population. It is time again to make ICD great again. The new leadership continues to believe in the grass-root empowerment of every chapter and zone. This ICD section needs to grow proportionally with the number of dentists. I am sure that dynamic leadership will do the needful.

This second edition has compiled the activities in the year 2021, which due to COVID-19, has seen a surge in online webinars and programs. All these live up to the ICD motto - Recognizing Service and the Opportunity to Serve.

It is interesting to see the members doing a tremendous job and hope that this spirit continues in the future too.

Secretary General’s Message to the New Fellows of ICD-Section VI

I am pleased to welcome the New Fellows of Section VI - India, Sri Lanka, and Nepal into Fellowship in the International College of Dentists. This honor is one of the premier achievements in a dentist’s career. Fewer than 1% of dentists worldwide have been given the honor of being recognized as a Fellow of the ICD. This singular achievement recognizes your outstanding contributions to dental leadership, humanitarian service, education, or dental research. I have personally attended two Section VI Convocations and I know them to be outstanding and meaningful ceremonies.

One only must look at the five Core Values of the College to see examples of the ways by which the ICD is a rare and inspirational beacon of global citizenship in dentistry:

• Leadership: In 2021, the College was granted Special Consultative Status with the United Nations Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC). This designation not only provides access to ECOSOC, but also to its many subsidiary bodies as well as special events organized by the President of the General Assembly. Under Consultative Status, the College may provide expert analysis to the ECOSOC on issues directly related to its experience in oral health, identify arising issues and challenges, help monitor and implement international agreements, help raise public awareness of relevant issues, while playing a major role in advancing United Nations goals and objectives when they are aligned with College goals and objectives. The College will also be able to attend international conferences and events and make written and oral statements when called upon, organize side events, enter United Nations premises, and network with influencers and decision-makers around the world. ECOSOC Consultative Status is recognition of the preeminent position and worldwide reputation of the ICD in advancing global oral health for underserved and vulnerable populations.

• Recognition: For the last century, the ICD has been honoring the world’s leading dentists, recognizing the outstanding professionals in dentistry that have passed a rigorous peer-review process that is necessary for each Fellow to receive this honor. Each Fellow has had his or her Candidate Information Form reviewed and voted upon by a panel of Officers and Regents. Fewer than one percent of the world’s dentists have earned the title of Fellow of the International College of Dentists, but those who made it include some of the greatest of all time. L.D. Pankey, Peter Dawson, Clifford Sturdevant, Harald Loe, Per Ingvart Branemark, Jeanne Sinkford, Arthur Dugoni, Esther Wilkins, Harold Hillenbrand, Herbert Yee, Michael Buonocore, Gordon and Rella Christensen and many more were all Fellows of the ICD.

• Humanitarianism: The College creates, supports, promotes, provides, and develops hundreds of humanitarian dental projects around the world, and it does it on a budget that is perhaps 1/3-1/4 the budget of the dental practices of many of its’ Fellows. That is because although it is not rich in the financial sense, it has a worldwide wealth of talent, intellect, and dedication that few other dental organizations can claim. Many projects returned to activity in 2021 as the profession learned more about best practices for dental safety in a pandemic situation. Through its partnership with the Henry Schein Cares Foundation, the ICD was able to deliver over three million dollars’ worth of personal protective equipment to humanitarian missions in as many countries as was possible within local laws. This gift was able to re-stock the shelves of many dental missions that had donated their PPE to those who were caring for seriously ill COVID-19 patients in hospitals and medical clinics in 2020. The impact upon the health of those with little ability to otherwise access dental care is immeasurable.

- Education: ICD Online was begun in 2020 to fulfill the original intent of the college’s founders, which was to disseminate dental information between the countries of the world. The early presentations focused upon providing resources to help dentists and others to return to practice safely during the COVID pandemic. More recent productions have tapped the deep pool of ICD Fellow experts while providing an international forum discussing antimicrobial resistance and proper antibiotic prescribing practices. Today’s Special Guest Dr. Mahesh Verma was a key panelist in that webinar. In 2021, ICD Online presented the first episode of the Bettie R. McKaig Series on Women’s Dental Leadership. ICD Online has now become able to provide accredited continuing education credit for its webinars through the Academy of General Dentistry’s PACE Program.

- International Professional Relations: The ICD provides a universal international forum for the cultivation of cordial relations within the profession and to assist in preserving the highest perception of the profession worldwide. There are countless examples of cooperation among ICD Fellows from many of the nations of the world, including:
  - the sharing of scientific lectures in Spanish between Section IV, South America and Section III, Mexico,
  - The combined inter-Sectional meetings and events of the “sister Sections” of Japan, Korea, and Taiwan,
  - Section XV, which unites 13 countries or principalities from Afghanistan to Indonesia,
  - Section V, which comprises 39 countries and almost that many different spoken languages.

With the now virtual College Office, plans are in place for our ICD staff to eventually live in many different parts of the world, becoming more able to provide real time service to Fellows and those they serve. Despite our enormous reach, the College has twice been able to conduct real time Zoom meetings of its International Council whose members live in 19 different time zones.

In many ways, Fellowship is what you make of it. The ICD is not going to come to you and steer you to new places and projects and give meaning to your life. You need to do that for yourself, but the International College of Dentists is a wonderful place to find those things.

Author and motivational speaker Brian Tracy wrote that “Successful people are always looking for opportunities to help others. Unsuccessful people are always asking, ‘What’s in it for me?’”

Being a Fellow of the ICD is a great way to make an impact on your community and more importantly, the world. Please look around your communities to find other deserving dentists to join the ICD as global citizens in service to the greater good.

Dear Colleagues,

It gives me an immense pleasure to get connected once again as your International Executive Councilmen. Since our last interaction one year ago through the newsletter, we have had a change in our leadership. The new leadership is determined to overcome and revive the activities that were slowed down due to COVID-19. Our members are doing a great job and this has been noticed by the International office too.

Though they are appreciative of the efforts, they desire more updates, programs aligning to our goals of the ICD. They desire that there is more accountability, more public spirited activities and more membership, after the COVID-19 and normalcy. I am sure that the current leadership will engage in all these spheres. We should follow the motto Recognizing Service and the Opportunity to Serve. The words that appear along the photos of ICD, highlight the values that define the International College of Dentists as well as the realization of the motto in our projects throughout the nation.

Our ICD Section was forced to cancel or postpone in-person activities last year due to the COVID-19 pandemic even in 2021, which resulted in a decrease in Fellowship recruitment, networking and personal interactions. For months, though, our Sections have been staying active and connected through alternative means including virtual events and social media. Heading into 2022, the ICD section-VI placed priority on innovative suggestions for maintaining sustainability and membership retention. In response, we have been encouraged to continue recruitment and retention efforts locally and regionally using virtual tools and digital content. The College has also contributed by producing video content and educational programming, as well as by sharing best practices and information. We are now meeting more often than ever before thanks to technology.

I hope the pandemic abates and the physical meeting will continue from now on, since our Feb 2022 meeting.

Though we were constrained, yet with the efforts and guidance of our Masters and Fellows, challenges were changed into opportunities. Numerous online CDE Programs were held by all Zonal Reagents and fellows were given guidelines on Infection Control & Occupational safety in dental practice and antibiotics stewardship. We are all obliged to ICD Head Office for supporting the program. Humanitarian programs like volunteer Blood donation camps, we also observed Global Food Day, International Women Day on 5th March 2021 by honoring women working for COVID-19 patients, World Health Day and World No Tobacco Day on 31st May 2021 to quit the smoking.

We are pleased that our global ICD Section VI office, Zonal Reagents and Editor of Newsletter have done exceptionally well and carried out necessary activities. My heartiest thanks to them.

Message from Secretary General Desk

At the outset I congratulate our Chief Editor Dr. S. M. Balaji on taking out the next issue of Newsletter. The compilation of this newsletter is a result of his creativity and innovation.

The ICD Section-VI zonal office bearers are always abuzz with a plethora of activities where brilliant minds from all over India converge and share their vast reserves of ambition, knowledge and skills. It gives me immense pride to state that as a result of the collective effort of the Board Members, we have achieved a lot in the past year and I am hopeful of acquiring greater heights this year. The various webinars focused on relevant areas of prevention and treatments, also various social, humanitarian activities organised by members have helped people in great and portrayed the image of ICD. As we move towards our goals, we must always keep in mind that we owe more to the world than it owes us. Each of us can and must do his or her bit to help build a better universe.
